WILCOX & GIBBS SEWING MACHINE.

We would call attention to the following facts in connection with this Machine, which renders it superior to any other in use:

It forms a flat elastic seam, which will not rip or ravel.

It is entirely noiseless.

A patented device prevents its being turned backward.

The needle cannot be set wrong.

Can be used successfully without other instructions than accompany the Machine.

SINGER SEWING MACHINES!

MANUFACTORY

182, 484, 486, 488, 490 and 492 Mott street, New York.

MOTTO: "The Singer Sewing Machines are the only Machines that can sew all kinds of Cloth, and with all kinds of Thread."

Singer's Letter "A" Family Machine is the best and cheapest Machine in the World for family Sewing. There is no doubt as to the value of our Machines for manufacturing purposes, but it is only of late that the public have begun to learn that the essential elements of a Machine best adapted to the Sewing World are also the elements of a good Family Machine.

We would ask for our Letter "A" Machine the attention of Vest Makers and Dress Makers, and all those who want Machines for Light Manufacturing Purposes. They embody the Principles of the Manufacturing Machines, making them as [illegible] and are destined to be as celebrated for FAMILY SEWING and Light Manufacturing purposes as our Manufacturing Machines are for manufacturing purposes in general.

FAMILY SEWING MACHINES are valuable in proportion to the number of things they can do well. See what ours can do [illegible]

All persons requiring information about Sewing Machines, their sizes, prices, working capabilities, and the best method of purchasing, can obtain it by sending for a copy of the SINGER MANUFACTURING COMPANY'S ILLUSTRATED PAMPHLET, which is entirely devoted to the subject. It will be SENT GRATIS.

PERSONAL REMINISCENCES OF A YOUNG HERO.—Preeminent among the rising naval heroes of the day—the young hero of our times—is Lieutenant Robert Cushing, a beardless, effeminate, boyish-looking youngster, of less than twenty-two years of age, the fame of whose daring deeds is being daily heralded over the land. What the dead Ransom was to the Army, Cushing is, now to the Navy, and should life be spared him, it can hardly be doubted that his name will figure conspicuously on the page of history as one of the representative men of our day. We are indebted to Dr. Shipley, Surgeon of the Wateree, for the following personal reminiscences of the young hero:

I listened for an hour, one evening in January, 1864, to Cushing's account of his cruise in the Sounds of North Carolina. We had dined together at the Continental Hotel, in Philadelphia, where we were both [illegible] while our respective ships were fitting at the Navy Yard. I don't think he told the story very willingly, but I had seen newspaper accounts of one of its incidents, and by a good deal of effort succeeded in getting the facts from his own lips. "It amounted to little," he said. There were salt works, an armed schooner, and a number of men at the head of a bayou that ran parallel with the river for its length, some three miles. Where it entered the river, by a sort of right-angled turn in its course, the rebels had thrown up an earthwork, and had six or seven guns, with perhaps a hundred men inside of it. The tongue of land between the bayou and the river was about half a mile wide, where the salt works were. I took six men, at midnight, leaving my ship anchored, out of sight, up the river, and with them in my smallest boat, pulled down the river till I reached a point opposite the head of the bayou. We landed. My men took the boat on their shoulders. We worked our way cautiously through the grass and underbrush—reached the waters of the bayou, launched our boat, pulled to the armed schooner, boarded her, took sixteen prisoners, sent them ashore in their own boat, with two of my own men guarding them, burned the schooner, went ashore and surrounded the works with four men, received its surrender from an officer who was protecting it, with twenty-five men, took him and his command prisoners, paroled them and the schooner's crew, burned the salt works, and went back again across the peninsula with my six men, my boat, and the captured arms.

The light of the burning schooner was bringing a detachment from the guard at the earthwork at the bayou mouth rapidly up the peninsula. I saw them round the burning salt-work as I shoved my boat off in the river. Their work was over, however. I had destroyed everything that they were protecting, and that without going near their fort."

This was only one of Cushing's daring deeds in his first cruise in command of the "Monticello." I never knew a man whose whole air and appearance gave me a better idea of dauntless courage, from utter inability to know what fear is. He is very young—not yet twenty-two years old. He is about five feet ten inches in hight, with a beardless face, blue eyes, well proportioned Roman nose, prominent chin, firmly closed lips, a fair boyish complexion, with long hair of a light brown color. He looks younger than he is. I remember when I first met him on the Monticello's deck. I asked him where I could find the Captain—taking him for one of the master's mates of the ship, from his extremely youthful appearance.

His record in this war is imperishable. His cruise in the Monticello, his capture of rebels at points far within their own lines; his sublime audacity in destroying the Albemarle; his survey in daylight of Fort Fisher, when he stayed for an hour within a hundred yards of its walls; his most recent exploits, of penetrating to the wharves of Wilmington, and returning unseen and unharmed, tell his superb story thus far.

His birthplace is New York City. He was "obliged," or dropped from the list, at the naval school at Annapolis, for some supposed incapacity. He re-entered the navy in 1861 as Master's Mate, was promoted to Volunteer Master, then restored to the regular service in the position he would have had if he had remained at the naval school. He is now a lieutenant in the regular navy. I hope, as I know my readers will, for his speedy promotion.

SANDWICH ISLAND NEWS.—We have the following intelligence from the Honolulu Advertiser of January 28th:

A public meeting was held in Honolulu on the 21st to take measures for building a first-class hotel in that place.

The annual commercial statistics show that during the year 1864, there has been an increase of fifty per cent. in foreign imports and sixty per cent. in the exports over the previous year. The increase is mainly attributable to the development of the sugar interests.

The revenue in 1864, under a [illegible] per cent. duty has been $1,712,241 61.

The American Consul, A. Caldwell, suffered a fracture of the leg by the fall of his horse upon it whilst passing along a street in Honolulu.

The weather had been delightfully cool all over the islands.

The Missionary packet, Morning Star, had returned from the Micronesian group, bringing Rev. Mr. Snow and family, Rev. H. Bingham, Jr., and wife, and a daughter of Sturges. The latter and wife are the only foreign missionaries left on the islands. Bingham is quite ill.

On the passage of the Star, Captain Gallett discovered a new island, located in north latitude 24° 4', and east longitude 154° 2', and about 800 miles north-northeast from Guam. The island is about five miles long, densely covered with trees and shrubbery, with a white sand beach, and rises in a knoll at the center 200 feet above the level of the sea. There were no signs of people living on it. It lies directly in the track of whalers bound from Ascension to the Ochotsk or Arctic.

The Advertiser says that the increasing trade with San Francisco will, doubtless, warrant the establishment of the line of packets for Hilo, direct. It will tend to develope still more rapidly the resources of the magnificent and flourishing island of Hawaii, which, is capable of supporting 1,000,000 population, and of producing 100,000,000 of pounds of sugar annually, besides other staples.

The sugars produced on the various plantations are much superior in quality to those of last year.

It is not our criminal actions that we require courage to confess, but those that are ridiculous and foolish.

TUESDAY MORNING, MARCH 7, 1865.

Fourth of March at Vancouver.

Interesting Proceedings—Salute of One Hundred Guns at the Fort—Meeting of the Sanitary Society—Speeches of Gen. Alvord, Rev. Mr. Hines and Hon. Judge Wyche.

On Saturday last, at 12 m., a salute of one hundred guns was fired at Fort Vancouver, in celebration of the recent great victories of our arms and in commemoration of another anniversary of the inauguration of the chief officer of our Republic.

It had been previously announced that there would be a meeting of the Sanitary Society, embracing the officers of the garrison and their ladies and the citizens of Vancouver. It had also been announced that Gen. Alvord, Rev. Mr. Hines and Hon. Judge Wyche would address the people on the occasion. As it was generally understood that it would probably be the last time that Gen. Alvord would thus meet his fellow-officers and fellow-citizens, to address them, at an early hour, the place of meeting, the Methodist Episcopal Church, was crowded with expectant listeners.

The proceedings of the Society were opened by music from the choir, followed by prayer by Rev. Mr. Hines; music from the choir ("Rally round the flag, boys")—when Gen. Alvord was called to the desk. He said:

"This is the 4th of March, 1865—a memorable day. The 4th of March, 1861, was a memorable day—and this is a proud day for Abraham Lincoln. Did ever President in four years witness such triumphs, such fruition, such utter, thorough and complete accomplishment of the principles and policy which caused his election? Nay, the results have gone far, far beyond the programme of the original Republican party. The Chicago Convention of 1860, which nominated Mr. Lincoln, erected a platform based only on the policy of freedom in the territories. We see now, not a mere platform, but a temple erected on that platform,—the glorious temple of universal liberty! Chicago only laid a foundation. Events, stupendous, momentous events, have raised a sublime superstructure. Did ever in the history of the world a political party witness such triumphs? I do not say it achieved them. For these results, so pregnant and germinating in their nature, have been accomplished by all parties. Nay, the very rebels have done much to effect them. The war has done it. The war which they had the audacity to inaugurate, brought forth the events. Jefferson Davis and his confederates (I have always said,) have been in effect fighting all the time for the abolition of slavery. Peace would have preserved it. It is war, volcanic war, which upheaves, convulses, revolutionizes and overturns; it is war, and not peace, which can thus take the short path to thorough and rapid reforms. We begin already to see "The New Nation to arise from the War," which the lamented Thomas Starr King, in this room spoke of a year and a half ago! The triumph, too, includes, not alone the "forcible abolition" of slavery. The number of slaves set free by the armies is small compared with the number set free by the voluntary abolition of slavery. Look at Maryland, at Missouri, emancipated, disenthralled by their own voluntary actions. Surely our moral conquests are as striking as our military achievements.

But it is time that I should allude to these military achievements. All the forts and arsenals seized or stolen by the rebels, are now recaptured [the task imposed in Mr. Lincoln's proclamation of 15th April, 1862] but Augusta Arsenal in Georgia, and Fayetteville Arsenal in North Carolina. The telegraph yesterday told us that the latter is soon to be taken by Sherman. This day, in New York, San Francisco, and all over the East, is set apart to rejoice over the signal triumph of our arms,—Atlanta, the battle of Nashville, Fort Fisher, Wilmington, Columbia, Charleston, Fort Sumter! Did our gunboats do it all this time? The rebels used to console themselves with the notion that our victories were due to the gunboats! Lo! behold! Sherman has actually moved without gunboats!—the Cotton States have now a deep and abiding sense that the Yankee army moves where it pleases, gunboats or no gunboats!

"It is well to rejoice over the fall of Charleston and Columbia, the proud seat of learning and seat of Government in South Carolina,—that State which for thirty-five years has nursed the poisonous leaven of nullification, secession and rebellion. "They have sown the wind and they reap the whirlwind." [Hosea, 8-7.] The quaint language of the prophet goes on to say:—The land "hath no stalk: the bud shall yield no meat: if so be it yield, the strangers shall swallow it up. Israel is swallowed up. Ephriam hath hired lovers"—(rebel sympathizers in Europe) "yea, though they have hired among the nations" (sought foreign aid and intervention) "now will I gather them and they shall sorrow. Because Ephraim hath made many altars to sin, altars shall be unto him to sin." "I will send a fire upon his cities and it will devour the palaces thereof." Charleston has been subject to eighteen months bombardment. Nay, the fire which consumed a part of the city of Charleston, was lighted by the torch of their own rebellious arms! That is retribution with a vengeance! a visitation at their own hands upon the poor women and children they themselves had left behind! This is fire-eating! It is a day for hosannas and rejoicing! No campaign or victories in history have ever been more memorable than those of Meade, Thomas, Sheridan, Sherman, and Grant. All hail for such heroes! worthy of the respect, the admiration and homage of a grateful people. Let the evergreen chaplets be prepared by fairy hands! Let them be crowned with garlands! They have placed rainbows in the midst of the storm! Such victories are the harbingers of peace—a glorious and lasting peace."

Gen. Alvord here explained the character and objects of the Sanitary and Christian Commission. He said that they did not conflict in their designs; that both were necessary and were employed in relieving the horrors and sufferings caused by the war. They were promptly on the ground to supply the needs of soldiers. To the objection sometimes made that this was the duty of the Government (especially the supply of food) he said that under the rule which governed the Commissary Department, denounced as "red tape," this was sometimes impracticable. He said he felt like espousing the cause and championship of "red tape." "Red tape" in its proper interpretation is honor, justice, and integrity, system, order, rigid accountability, as opposed to disorder, waste and corruption. "What," said Gen. Alvord, "would become of the finances of the nation if this system of accountability was not adhered to? The public debt is sufficient now. It piles 'Pelion upon Ossa.' What would it become if the system of rigid responsibility was abandoned? In that event to what unknown depths of depreciation would our unfortunate greenbacks tumble? Thus pray let the commissary continue to hold a tight grip on his supplies, and not issue without the forms being complied with. Let him use the scales and weights and measures. But on the other hand, let the voluntary contributions of the people be freely distributed (with judgment and discretion certainly) with a design to give prompt and timely relief. 'Red tape' deals in locks, keys and bolts and bars, and has for its type—for its armorial bearings—the watch-dog of the Treasury. The liberal, generous and unstinted Sanitary Commission is typified by the goddesses Pomona, Flora, Misericordia;—Florence Nightingales,—Angels of Mercy and Plenty—scattering with well filled cornucopias, to friend and foe,

"To gentle offices of love,
Their feet are never slow;
They view thro' mercy's melting eye,
A brother in a foe."

Gen. Alvord spoke of the Christian Commission. It more especially expected aid from Christians; but would welcome and invite assistance from all sources, said he: "Help both—help them freely:—help them as you love your homes, your country, your Government, your suffering soldiers in the field; and as you would merit the smile of Heaven. The Christian Comm[illegible] a [illegible] the World, [illegible] communism [illegible] his charity [illegible] on the ignorant and those out of the way [illegible] for that He Himself also is compassed with infirmity.' This is the [illegible] Christian, by [illegible] the faith by [illegible] hibition of [illegible] the self-sanctifying efforts of [illegible]

"But the Sanitary [illegible] receives [illegible] Dr. [illegible] Portland, [illegible] the Jews [illegible] and not fail to pay a high tribute to the eloquent and successful appeals [illegible] The Catholic Church has [illegible] aided the Sanitary Commission. [illegible] published appeals [illegible] the Archbishops [illegible] We then say, [illegible] and heterodox [illegible] theologians and [illegible] creeds and all parties [illegible] may allow the latent sparkles of humanity to visit them [illegible] rebel prisoners as our own soldiers. For this [illegible] and there is no possible [illegible] independents [illegible] renegades [illegible] help to swell the [illegible]"

We have not been able to give the address in full, and will [illegible] this [illegible] briefly [illegible] which followed.

Gen. Alvord said that [illegible] he had been requested to address [illegible] he had received an intimation that he would soon be ordered to Washington. He would bid farewell with regret to the waters of the Columbia river and to numerous friends for whom he had a warm regard. He said—

"If the eye watches with pleasure the gradual growth of a favorite shrub or flower, or of a noble shade tree planted by our hands, or the passage of smiling infancy through [illegible] youth to sturdy manhood, shall not a reflecting mind contemplate with still higher gratification the rise, growth and expansion of an infant commonwealth? When I arrived here in 1852, there was no white settlement in old Oregon Territory east of the Cascade Mountains.

"I look with confidence to your future prosperity, and believe that nowhere on the face of the earth is there a more inviting country for emigration. But I believe that its prosperity depends on the continuance of your connection with this great and powerful government. If permitted to give advice, I would say—cherish and cultivate an intense nationality—cherish the Union, the Union cause, the Union [illegible] and Union sentiments. You have a country and a government calculated to inspire affection, admiration and well-founded pride. [illegible] in material progress we now find ample cause for exultation and gratulation."

Plaudits were reiterated through the delivery of this address.

Music by the German Band.

Rev. Mr. Hines then addressed the society in a short speech. He referred to the first election of Mr. Lincoln—to the vote he gave for him—to the danger which attended his inauguration as President—to the success of his administration and to his recent election, and to his inauguration, which that day had been announced by the expiring echoes of cannon on the shores of the Pacific. He said that when reflecting on the recent inauguration, the following text came impressively to mind: "Now the angel of the Lord called unto him out of heaven a second time and said—Abraham! Abraham! And he said, here am I." Mr. Hines presented the objects of the Sanitary Commission to the society; and referred, in a very kind manner, to the announcement of Gen. Alvord that he was about to leave this territory and the military district in which his interests had so long been identified and in which he would leave a large number of friends. The regret expressed on account of the anticipated departure of Gen. Alvord, for a new field of usefulness, found an audible response from the numerous crowd in attendance.

After music by the band, Hon. Judge Wyche delivered an excellent address on the great topics of the day, which did him distinguished honor and which was repeatedly applauded.

At the close of the meeting, a collection was taken for Sanitary purposes, which amounted to one hundred and thirty two dollars in legal tender. The meeting was an entire success.

VICTORIA NEWS.—Our contemporaries of Victoria were, at latest dates, so busy with the election lately held for members of the Colonial Parliament that they seemed even to forget the usual discussion and arguments as to the best, shortest and quickest road to Kootenai. But the election is over, the Colonist is jubilant and the Chronicle is not. Free trade was voted down and protection, in the persons of Messrs. McClure and De Cosmos, the successful candidates, was declared for by a large majority.

Edward Dillon, 60 years old,—a cabinet maker—supposed to be suffering from aberration of mind, was missing.

The California Steam Navigation Company is said to be building a new 1,500 tons steamer to be placed on the route from San Francisco to Victoria.

The Victoria papers were quite complimentary to Mr. J. H. Taylor, now filling an engagement with Mr. Potter in this city.

The differences between the Nanaimo Coal Mining Company and the miners had been settled and the men had gone to work.

Capt. Irving was having a new steamboat built for the Frazer River trade, a sister craft to the Reliance, now running in that trade.

Some 30 or 40 armed men, of the 10th February, went on board the Jenny Jones, tied up for debt at Victoria, carried her off by force, overpowering the officers of the law in charge, and took the vessel to Port Angeles. The case will be investigated thoroughly. The papers at Victoria denounce it as barratry and perhaps piracy.

Persons recently arrived from the mining regions say that cattle are generally doing well in the valley of the Similkameen. Considerable mining was going on at Kootenai. The Gold Hill tunnel was in 200 feet, with good prospects, and the hill was claimed for over a mile above town. Some 300 men had gone to the new discoveries near the Columbia, to the north on Canyon Creek. Some 200 miles north, horses commanded from $150 to 200.

At Cariboo the miners were having balls and parties, and snow was two and a half feet deep. Not much mining going on.

The Chilcotin Indians are said to be on a raid by some reports, and considerable excitement existed at the mouth of the Quesnelle river. Other accounts say there was no danger from that score.

ADVENTURES OF WARREN LELAND.—It takes time to develope a man, and it is most natural that a man so renowned of his ability to entertain travelers, should have in turn become inclined to travel himself, that he might be able to amuse the world as travelers have amused him. One of the New York pictorials has a huge likeness of Warren as he ventured upon the plains last October, upon the occasion of his trip to Oregon. Buffalo, Saints were called in [illegible] to an unlimited extent, and the New York Bon face became metamorphosed on paper into a walking depot of the North Western Fur Company. October is not a dangerous month to travel even in the mountains, much less upon the plains, and we cannot but fear that the blood of the Leland family must have carried the ingenuous narrator to some considerable inconvenience, though the romantic appearance of the grotesque costumes is not to be denied. We fear, that Robinson Crusoe and all polar travelers will become insignificant in future by comparison with the man who killed a moose upon the Blue mountains, where moose was never seen before, and speared salmon at the Cascades in November, where even an Indian was never known to do the like. Leland must have read Fitzhugh Ludlow and borrowed some ideas from him and not to be behindhand, he drew on his individual fancy to the extent of just one moose.

W. T. INFANTRY.—We learn that the W. T. Infantry is to be consolidated, and the field and supernumerary officers mustered out.

The rumbling of the trains was distinctly heard. The enemy's cavalry and the main body of his infantry have been moved toward Hatcher's Run.

Capture of Columbia and Augusta.

NEW YORK, March 1. The steamer [illegible] reports, when off Charleston bar, on [illegible] being informed that Columbia, S. C., had been burned, and that Augusta had been captured by our troops.

NEW YORK, March 2. The World's special dispatch has the following additional particulars concerning the reported burning of Columbia, S. C.: When the Arago appeared off Charleston Bar, a dispatch boat brought her important news, which, if true, illustrates unparalleled rebel treachery. The officer who brought the intelligence states that soon after a corps of Sherman's troops had captured Columbia, the rebel citizens there endeavored in every possible manner to harass our troops. The corps which entered the city after its capture, attempted to retain Sherman's further advance, and was succeeded by Second corps.

While the latter corps was quietly marching through the principal streets to their temporary barracks, a number of citizens poured a deadly fire upon them from windows and roofs of the houses which they occupied. The insurrection was beginning to spread, when our troops retreated a short distance, and subsequently fired the city which is now in ashes. No further particulars are given.

News had been received at Charleston that Gen. Sherman had marched in force on Augusta, and the enemy at once evacuated the city. It is also stated that a large amount of rebel property had been captured there, and that Sherman, after leaving a sufficient force to garrison the city, proceeded on his way northward.

The announcement was also made that Sherman was probably proceeding to the cities of Florence, S. C., and Charlotte, N. C., in force, and that he had captured a large quantity of supplies on the route of march.

The Herald's correspondent says: Columbia was burned by order of Gen. Sherman, as a punishment to the citizens for firing on our troops when the city was in our possession.

Dispatch from Gilmore.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The following telegram from Gen. Gilmore, has been transmitted to this department:

[illegible], Feb. 26. An inspection of the rebel defences at Charleston, show that we have taken over four hundred and fifty pieces of ordnance, being more than double what I first reported. The lot includes eighty 10-inch columbiads, a great many 32 and 42-pounders, some seven-inch Brooke's rifles and many pieces of foreign make. We also captured eight locomotives and a great number of passenger and platform cars, all in good condition.

Deserters report that the last of Hardee's army was to have crossed the Santee river yesterday, bound for Charlotte, N. C., and that it was found Sherman had already intercepted their march. It is reported on similar authority, that the last of Hood's army, 12,000 strong, passed through Augusta, Ga., last Sunday, on their way to Beauregard.

Georgetown, S. C., has been evacuated and is in our possession. Deserters are coming in constantly. We have over four hundred already.

(Signed.) GILMORE.

Panic at Richmond.

NEW YORK, March 2.—Richmond editorials foreshadow the evacuation of that city. The World's army of the Potomac special dispatch says:

There is every indication of a panic at Richmond. The old Senators and members of the House are fleeing, and now there is barely a quorum in Congress to transact business. This has been hushed up, but now the Richmond papers openly allude to the fact, and call upon the military authorities to bring back the fugitives by force.

A very important movement is now being made by Lee; and it is believed to be the evacuation of Richmond.

Concerning Sherman.

NEW YORK, March 1.—The Tribune's Washington special dispatch says Gen. Joe Johnson assumed the command of forces in front and rear of Sherman on Thursday last.

The World's Washington special dispatch says: Richmond papers of yesterday mention then to secede in respect to military operations in North Carolina. They are not in an exultant mood. It is quite certain that Sherman has not yet encountered any formidable line in his path.

The Atlantic Cable Again.

NEW YORK, March 1. The Post's special says, all applications for the extension of patents, including Goodyear's and Hayward's have failed.

At the annual meeting of the shareholders of the Atlantic Telegraph Company in London, on the 5th of February, the following persons were elected Directors: Sir Samuel Canard, Bart., Edward Cropper, George H. Bidden, Esq., E. M. Archibald, Peter Cooper, of New York, and Mr. Hugh Allen, of Montreal. Up to Friday evening the 17th 1,289 miles of cable had been completed and one hundred miles have been manufactured per week. The Great Eastern will be ready for sea with the entire cable on board by the first of June.

Message of Gov. Brown, of Georgia.

The message of Gov. Brown, of Georgia, is published. He defends his State against newspaper charges of allowing Sherman to march unmolested through it. He says she was abandoned to her fate and neglected by the Confederate authorities. He recommends the establishment of the militia organization to be turned over to the Confederate Government. He also recommends the impressment of provisions from persons who won't sell supplies to the indigent families of soldiers. He recommends a law to punish robbery with death; opposes the arming of slaves; complains of the usurpation of the Confederate Congress in levying disproportionate taxes; charges upon it many abuses and charges all military disasters upon the Generalship of Jeff. Davis. He says the Government is a military despotism and the Confederacy is drifting into anarchy. If persisted in, this must terminate in reconstruction, with or without subjugation. He opposes conscription and urges requisition upon the States for troops. He also urges taking from Davis power as Commander-in-Chief, and calls for a Convention to amend the Constitution.

From Richmond Papers.

WASHINGTON, March 1. The Richmond Dispatch says: Joe Johnston, on Thursday last, assumed command of the army to Sherman's front lately commanded by Beauregard.

The Whig has the following from Charlotte from the Augusta papers of the 24th. No important movements are reported. Captain Dickinson captured several officers and a considerable number of men during the raid to Florida.

Gen. N. B. Forrest has been placed in command of all the cavalry in the District of Mississippi, Louisiana and West Tennessee Department.

First general order proposes a reorganization of the cavalry. He threatens to exterminate Confederate stragglers, robbers and deserters.

Gen. Thomas' troops are being massed for a march through the interior of the State of Alabama.

The Richmond Examiner of the 27th says: Gens. Crook and Kelly, captured some days since, arrived here on Saturday last, and were furnished with apartments at Libby Prison.

The Examiner says the rebel Congressmen have become frightened and were fleeing from Richmond. The rebel Congress was left without a quorum.

Complaints Against the Sierra Nevada—Measurement of Vessels, etc.—We learn of [illegible] action having been commenced against the steamship Sierra Nevada, as yet, in consequence of the [illegible] of the passage system. That a number of [illegible] were obliged to sleep [illegible] [illegible] berths is not denied by the officers, [illegible] those passengers [illegible] they were told explicitly that their chances [illegible] for the best of accommodations. There [illegible] rush of people to this country just now, and notwithstanding the Sierra Nevada is the [illegible] passenger steamer on the line, men must expect [illegible] accommodated, when such a number as [illegible] this [illegible] are on board. When we [illegible] the paragraph in yesterday's paper, we were not fully advised of all the circumstances, [illegible] upon inquiring, learn that instead of having [illegible] her registered number, she falls far short of [illegible] This would show, that no matter how great [illegible] inconvenience it had been to persons on board, they could obtain no redress, as under the laws of Congress, the Sierra Nevada is entitled to carry many more passengers, and much more freight than she could carry, under any circumstances. This is owing to the late measurement laws relating to vessels and steamers, and to show how absurdly it operates we will cite an instance: The steamer Fannie Troup, lately built by Capt. Turnbull, has an actual capacity of 140 tons only, but the late measurement places her register at over "14 tons." The bark Helen W. Almy, which is a top heavier craft, and carries with safety 500 and 600 tons, is put at about the same figures. Now if the Troup was loaded according to her given capacity, she would sink, while the latter craft goes to sea with nearly double her registered amount. The law of which these are instances is the late act of Congress—based upon the correct principle in vogue in England. The only reason why it is not correct here, is because American steamers are not built the same as English steamers, all rooms below deck, but are mainly upper works. So the Sierra Nevada had not near the amount, on the present trip, to which she was entitled, but notwithstanding, she could [illegible] so many more passengers and take so much more freight, according to law, we are not prepared to believe that her officers would allow it, and we think they would do all possible to render those in their charge comfortable, on a rough voyage, even were they badly crowded.

The Oregon Penitentiary.—We visited the Penitentiary on Saturday last, not with any more special purpose, however, than to obtain a few items, of general interest to the public. It seems to us a great wrong that this institution should be removed from its present location—it will cost a large amount of money to the State, which would be much better appropriated to build up the present plan. There are thirty-five convicts at this time employed at the Prison, and a more efficient set of workmen never handled picks, shovels, and wheel-barrows. They are working on Front street filling in a gulch above the Penitentiary, at present, and their conduct is sufficient to show the worth of the keepers. Mr. J. P. Ward, as Deputy Warden, has done much to instill in them the principle of obedience, and while it looks like herding so many cattle, it is nevertheless a very correct way of dealing with that class of men who have been obliged, thus to fall into the line. About the 20th of September last Mr. Gardner, Warden of this institution, began with the convicts upon a principal of abstinence from the use of tobacco, and it appears to have a very salutary effect. There is less sickness, among them, and the most peculiar improvement is noticeable in their ability to do work, which proves to the satisfaction of Mr. Gardner, that they are better without the weed, and that its use is really damaging in a great proportion of cases. Matteo, the prisoner who was shot in a recent effort to escape, has very nearly recovered. Rev. Mr. Selwood and Rev. Mr. Royal are regular attendants at the Penitentiary on Sundays, and discourse to the convicts upon subjects pertaining to their religious instruction, besides furnishing them with reading matter for their leisure hours.

Interesting Religious Intelligence.—Since the dawn of the New Year, the Congregational Church and society under the pastoral charge of Rev. Geo. H. Atkinson, in this city, have holden evening meetings during each week, with but few interruptions. The meetings have been well attended and remarkably free from all excitement; yet, on Sabbath last, the fruits of prayer were manifest in the addition of more than twenty to membership, nearly all upon profession. On one evening last week, a gentleman from Salem, Mr. Knight, whilome of the Statesman, was licensed to preach, and on Sunday a deacon was ordained, over twenty admitted to church membership, and one infant baptized. Over fifty persons participated in celebrating the Lord's Supper. The interest still continues unabated among the members, and more now enquiring will, doubtless, soon enroll their names in the army of the Lord.

Recorder's Court.—In Recorder's Court yesterday Frank Cole, who is something of a fossil, if not of the bitumen order, was arraigned for disorderly conduct, and in default of a fine imposed was "sent up" for three days. Charles Porter—an old offender—was arraigned for about the tenth time for drunkenness, and the Court observing that former efforts had failed to chastise him, concluded that it would be cheaper for the city to board him regularly, than to board him occasionally and pay the cost of suits with it, and accordingly "sent him up" for ten days. The case of Geo. Smith, arraigned on a charge of petit larceny was continued.

Tobacco Store Opened.—Some persons lately conceived the idea of opening a Cigar store in this city—as a means of making a raise—but being short of means to do the business on a legitimate scale, opened one that was already established on Front street, during the night of Sunday, and abstracted considerable tobacco which was found secreted under a wharf yesterday. We have not heard the names of these enterprising individuals, but believe they are known as John Doe and Richard Roe.

An Interesting Relic.—The Library Rooms in this city have been presented with a very interesting relic of the year 1770, being a copy of the Boston Gazette of March 12th of that year, which contains full particulars of the collision between the soldiers and the "townfolks," on the 5th of March 1770, ninety-five years ago, which many historians believe was the first step towards the revolutionary war. This old paper has been remarkably well preserved, and is an important contribution to the Library.

The New Court House.—The day of receiving proposals for the erection of the new Court House, in accordance with plans and specifications at the County Clerk's Office in this city, expires to-day. This is an important work, and we understand numerous bids are offered for it. The contract will be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder.

The Sierra Nevada.—The steamship Sierra Nevada will leave this port to-morrow morning, for Victoria and San Francisco, but at what hour cannot now be definitely stated. Should it be possible to leave at an earlier hour than noticed could be given through this paper, advertisement will be posted at Wells, Fargo & Co's Express office.

No Boat From Umatilla.—The steamer from the Cascades arrived at her wharf at the usual hour last evening, bringing the Express of Wells, Fargo & Co., and passengers from the Dalles. The steamer Spray had not returned from Umatilla up to Sunday night. The stage of water had not materially increased.

Eureka Theatre.—The California Minstrels were received by a crowded audience at the above place of amusement last night, and were vociferous applauded. They are decidedly the best band of ethiopian performers that have ever appeared on the boards of our city.

Two Judges in Court.—Yesterday a case was tried before Justice Gray, of this city, in which the Judges of the County and Recorder's Courts, Marquam and McCoy, were important witnesses, and were taken from their own Courts to appear. The Judges will each resume business this morning.

Rising.—The Willamette was steadily rising at 9 o'clock last evening. The snow, of which it appears by our Meteorological Table we have had five inches, having melted away in a mist has given the river an "upward" tendency.

Christian Commission.—The ladies of the Christian Commission are requested to meet in the vestry of the Presbyterian Church, on Tuesday, March 7th, at 2 o'clock, p. m. All interested in the [illegible] are invited to attend.

Portland Stock and Exchange Board.—The transactions below are from the Saturday meeting of the Stock and Exchange Board. We understand nothing of importance was done yesterday.

The Dry Docks.—The steamer Iowa Hoyt was taken to the shipyard yesterday, and will be placed in the dry docks soon for a [illegible] repairing.

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER.—PAIN RELIEVING AND STRENGTHENING.—The history of these plasters would occupy more space than can be spared within the limits of this advertisement. Suffice it to say, that the most eminent chemists and physicians of the United States and Europe were consulted as to their composition. They are made porous, so that the perspiration can go on, sufficiently whilst the plaster is applied [illegible] as with other plasters, causing the accumulation of acrid fluid, which engenders pain and creates many unpleasant sensations. It is necessary to the cure of affections for which the plaster is usually applied. India rubber, myrrh, and other choice gums and essences of the vegetable kingdom, are the material ingredients of these celebrated plasters. While they are possessed of all the soothing and warming qualities of almost every other plaster of the United States Dispensatory, they are without many of their inconveniences. In the language of one who has experienced much benefit from their application in a chronic disease of the kidneys, "They stick closer than a brother, and don't run like a false friend." For weakness of the back, pains in the side, stomach or chest, and for the alleviation of the pain attending rheumatism, they are without an equal.

The Agent in San Francisco, WILLIAM F. BRANDRETH, Office of Messrs. [illegible], will take great pleasure in forwarding the formula of these celebrated plasters to all Physicians who may desire to see it.

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters should be in the possession of everybody in the mining region. As a preventive of various dangerous diseases to which the gold seeker is liable it has no superior. While it is quite palatable enough as a beverage it is speedily and powerful in its effects upon the system. In all cases of Diarrhea, Dysentery, and the pervading fever so frequent upon exposure, the Bitters will be found invaluable as a corrective. No man should enter upon the expedition in life of a miner without being provided with Hostetter's preventive of stomach disease, nor should any of those who are now engaged in the occupation fail to have recourse to the Bitters. Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere.

Brandreth's Pills—Their Qualities.—In small and repeated doses the effect of Brandreth's Vegetable Universal Pills is to increase the activity of the secreting and excreting organs. The [illegible] [illegible] purer blood. It [illegible] a larger [illegible]. The operation of this extraordinary medicine does not stop here; the membranes of the lungs, of the eyes, and all the membranes become moister; the skin becomes damper and at the same time warmer where too cold, and cooler if too warm. So that Brandreth's Pills seem to vitalize and promote excretions generally. In large doses, say from five to ten Pills, they act as a powerful purgative, cleansing the bowels first of their contents, and then attack upon the affected organs, cleansing them of slime, mucus, or any concretions not required for their healthy action. This [illegible] of Brandreth's Pills is [illegible] the [illegible] and [illegible].

Cure Your Cold, Save Your Lungs.

NEWELL'S

PULMONARY SYRUP

HAS

CURED THOUSANDS!

And it will Cure You!

"A Cough is generally the effect of a Cold, which has either been improperly treated or entirely neglected. When it proves obstinate there is Always reason to fear the consequences,

as this shows a weak state of the lungs, and is often the forerunner of Consumption."—Buchanan's Domestic Medicine.

STOP THAN COUGHING!

Some of you can't, and we pity you. You have tried every remedy but the one destined, by its intrinsic merit, to supersede all similar preparations. It is not surprising you should be reluctant to try something else after the many experiments you have made of trashy compounds foisted on the public on a certain credit; but

Pulmonary Syrup!

Is really the VERY BEST remedy ever compounded for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Consumption. Thousands of people in California and Oregon have been already benefited by its surprising curative powers.

WHAT KILLED HIM?

Dr. Hall, in his "Journal of Health," speaking of the death of Washington Irving, asks the above question, and adds: "He might have [illegible] with [illegible] some years to come, had it not been [illegible] [illegible] no doubt, but given in thoughtlessness and reckless ignorance."

He Had a Cold!

Which, by some injudicious prescription, had been converted into asthma." Let me say to Dr. Hall that that "prescription" was not

NEWELL'S PULMONARY SYRUP.

KEEP IT IN THE HOUSE, use it freely, give it to your children upon the slightest indication of a cold, and you will thank and speak of it as all do who have become acquainted with its merits.

Pe-tro-le-um.

Fr[illegible] mutton shore,
To [illegible] of grease untold,
A stranger [illegible]
Gazed [illegible] oily gaz—
Pe-tro-le-um.

His brow was sad; his eye beneath
Flashed like a coal [illegible] the hearth
And like a [illegible] brazen [illegible]
Rang out the [illegible]
Pe-tro-le-um.

As in a dream he saw the light
[illegible] ev'ry vale and height;
And far they did the [illegible]
The stars were lit with benzole—
Pe-tro-le-um.

"That claim is mine!" [illegible]
"[illegible] going, but living grease no more
[illegible]
[illegible]
Pe-tro-le-um.

The [illegible] deep and [illegible] brave,
Who seek an [illegible] grave!
[illegible]
That angers well for such a bore—
Pe-tro-le-um.

"[illegible] stay!" [illegible] Fortune sweetly cried,
"Illuminate me as your bride."
The [illegible] from her bright eyes
And shot a hole through the sky—
Pe-tro-le-um.

"Beware! [illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible] good night,
That [illegible] stranger's light—
Pe-tro-le-um.

At break of day the early bird,
That caught the [illegible] heard
A [illegible] the air,
Unlike the words we use in prayer—
Pe-tro-le-um.

The stranger—by the scent around—
[illegible] the thing into the ground;
And, grasping still the fettered bag,
He still belched forth the oily gag—
Pe-tro-le-um.

There in the twilight cold and gray,
Without a lamp to cheer his way,
He struggled on through shar[illegible] shale,
With the same oleaginous wail—
Pe-tro-le-um.

MACARONE AND THE DESERTER.—The amusing correspondent of the N. Y. Leader, writing "from the front," on the Potomac, or James, says:

A little further on I came to a reliable deserter, who lay on a sand heap scratching himself. These deserters are very nice fellows.

As I approached he rose and saluted.

"Jes' came f'm 'tother side, gin'ral," says he.

"What do you want," says I.

"I'm powerful dry," says he.

I called an orderly and bade him fetch some whisky.

"Now," says I, "how's things over on your side?"

"Wal," says he, "pretty bad. Old Lee, he ain't got no men whatsomever."

"I guess you lie," says I. "We felt his line the other day, and it didn't feel good. You might just as well tell the truth."

"Oh!" says he, "I was only speaking figuratively like. He ain't got no men to speak of—fifty or sixty hundred thousand, mebbe."

"H'm, that's enough," says I.

"Yes, only they ain't good for nothing. They ain't no ammunition."

"They keep up a devil of a firing," says I, "for men without ammunition."

"Wal, yes," says he, "that's what's run the blockade. Thar's a power of ammunition runs the blockade."

"Short of rations?" says I.

"Dreadful short," says he. "We don't get only a cracker every three days."

"Why, I killed a lot of your up yonder a while ago with their knapsacks full."

"O, yes. That's what they got f'm the Shandoah Walley. They got a heap of food up yonder. Fact, they has all they want to eat jes now."

"You're bound to suit, ain't you," says I. "How are you off for ordnance?"

"O, our ordnance is orf'l," says he.

"Yes," says I, "I s'pose so. But young man, I've got an ordance, too, about offal, and I keep it pretty well cleared out of these lines. Now you'd better clear out. I go in for treating my fellow man well, but when it comes to rebels, and lying deserters at that, I can't say I see it. What do you expect to do round here?"

"Well," says he, "I kinder thort I'd go North and play Union refugee. I'm told it pays just rite at Loncoln meetin's."

"And how are you going to get to the North?"

"I s'pect you'll send me.

"Do you?"

"Yes; if you don't I'll jes' go back again to old Lee, and tell him all I seen in your lines."

This is what I call a good specimen of a rebel. He went in for dictating his own terms.

I sent him up to headquarters and had him hanged.

SINGULAR—A DREAM VERIFIED.—A gentleman from Wapello, who was stopping at the Ogilvie House, one night this week dreamed that his horse, which he had left at a livery stable, had got down with the halter around his neck in such a manner that he was in danger of choking to death. The dream made such a vivid impression on his mind that he awoke and went at once to the stable, where he found the horse in the precise condition seen in his dream. This circumstance may be relied upon as truthful. It is certainly a singular psychological fact. Is there not something in dreams? —Muscatine Journal.

OUR FRIEND GRIDLEY.—R. C. Gridley, Esq., of this city, says the Reese River Reveille, has not only got into New York, but also got into the papers. Harper's Weekly of January 21st, has an engraving purporting to be a picture of Gridley and his famous sack of Sanitary flour. Looking at the engraving we are at a loss to tell which is Gridley and which is the sack of flour.

An inventive Yankee has produced an apparatus which he says is a cure for snoring. He fastens upon the nose a gutta percha tube leading to the tympanum of the ear. Whenever the snorer snores, he himself receives the first impression, finds how disagreeable it is, and of course reforms.

A servant-maid was sent across the street for a barometer one stormy day, but in returning she fell down and broke it. She began to lament over the accident, when a gentleman passing by stopped and said: "O never cry for that, my pretty girl—it is a thing of course for the barometer to fall in bad weather."

A chap who was drawing wood a few days ago, near Three Mile Hill, in Great Barrington, took up his lines and what he supposed to be his whip, but proved to be a rattlesnake nearly six feet long, which lay stretched out beside the reins. He didn't hold it a great while.

A radical Union man compares a secessionist to a man out in the middle of a tempestuous sea, who sees a storm gathering around him, and because he does not like some of the captain's orders, seeks to get revenge by knocking a hole in the captain's ship.

It was a solemnly funny joke, that of the bon vivant, who said that there were but two occasions when a gentleman could drink brandy without a sacrifice of dignity and self-respect, namely, "when he has had salt fish for dinner, and when he hasn't."

A Jersey boy, now with the army in Virginia, writing home to his wife, says: "You must not think about me, dear Mary. I think a great deal about you and the little ones; but I cannot come home and see my country licked!"

If a young lady faints when you propose to her, you can restore her to consciousness by just whispering in her ear that you were only joking.

[illegible] Paris Presse, under the [illegible] Gazette [illegible] a general [illegible] and affirms that the [illegible] great powers have already entered [illegible] on the path of peace at [illegible]. After showing that Austria and Italy have [illegible] each other, the [illegible] [illegible] as a Spanish journal said two days before, it is the preface to the eloquence.

Dr. Mead was once assaulted in a pamphlet by Dr. Woodward. The doctors met; a fight ensued with swords. Mead disarmed his adversary and ordered him to beg for his life. "Never," said Woodward: "never till I am your patient!"

"Fine day for the race," said a wag to a sporting friend one bright morning lately. "What race?" anxiously inquired the friend. "Why, the human race, to be sure," was the reply.

"Remember, madam, that you are the weaker vessel," said an irate husband. "Exactly," said the lady, "but do not forget that the weaker vessel may have the stronger spirit in it."

"What! are you drunk again?" "No, my dear, only a little slippery. The fact is, my dear, some scoundrel has been rubbing my boots till they are as smooth as a piece of glass."

S. C. Knott and A. W. Shott fought a duel. The result was that they changed conditions. Knott was shot, and Shott was not. It was better to be Shott than Knott.

The following bill, rendered by a carpenter to a farmer, for whom he had worked, is at least curious—"To hanging two barn doors and myself seven hours, six shillings."

About the only person that we ever heard of that wasn't spoiled by being lionized, was a Jew named Daniel.

IODINE WATER.
IODINE WATER IS THE MOST IMPORTANT DIScovery of modern chemistry, and it is impossible to overestimate its influence as a remedial agent. Iodine has been considered the most useful article in Materia Medica, and many of the most scientific and practical chemists and physicians have investigated its effects upon the human system. It is to act upon the HEART,
LIVER, KIDNEYS,
DIGESTIVE ORGANS and GLANDULAR SYSTEM, and to have great control over
SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS.
Notwithstanding the zeal and ability which have been devoted to its investigation, it remained almost useless, until Dr. Henry Anders, a physician and chemist of New York, after years of patient labor and experiment, discovered a chemical process which enabled him to dissolve without a solvent. This, considered impossible by the scientific world, is attested by certificates of analysis from Dr. J. R. Chilton of this city, and Prof. Booth, U. S. Mint, Philadelphia. The importance of this discovery was so highly appreciated by the Faculty that it was published in the Medical Journals, and its use recommended to practitioners (see "American Medical Monthly," July 6, 1860, page [illegible]).
PURE IODINE IN PURE WATER.
This valuable medicine is now available to the public for the cure of Scrofula in all its manifold forms, Consumption, Cancer, Heart, Liver and Kidney Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervous Affections, Dyspepsia, Bronchitis, etc.
AS A TONIC
Its operation is evinced by strengthening the digestive organs and increased nutrition of the body is the result of the employment of Iodine. The patient recovers flesh, strength and color; hitherto pale, relaxed, and feeble, he becomes full, strong and florid.
Full directions accompany each bottle.
Sold by all Druggists. Price, $1 per bottle. Prepared by Dr. H. Anders & Co., Physicians and Chemists, New York.

ALLEN'S
LUNG BALSAM!
The Remedy for Curing
CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,
Asthma, Croup,
Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.
ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION. IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY, FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if only taken in time.
Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.
